DELEGADO

I joined the RC in during the 10th International Youth and Family Encounter in Atlanta 2007. I participated in camps and activities before in Germany and was then invited by a Legionary to fly there and get an impression how the RC works in different parts of the world. I had a beautiful time there starting with the pre-course for young adults and felt deeply attracted by the example of the other young adults.

This combined with my co-worker year three years later was a great experience of my faith and a way for a personal contact to Christ. Realizing that faith is not something you do privately in the family but something that is an important part in my personal life, a relationship that has to be taken care of and should be spread in the society.

I am 26 and do my PhD in Chemistry at the Technical University of Munich in Supramolecular Chemistry for another 2 and a half years.

What does the participation of the convention mean to you?

It is a great chance to grow deeper in my vocation to follow Christ and be part of the movement. Searching for the holy spirit in the documents of the RC and trying to understand what is best for me and for all of us in the RC.

What is the Regnum Christi for you?

A personal call to follow Christ; together with others who also feel a call. Finding my personal vocation and growing in my spiritual life with the RC as a family that helps me and gives me a home.

REGNUM CHRISTI
